OFFICE 212 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

Dolph will succeed himself as Senator from Oregon and Wolcott will probably be as fortunate in Colorado.

Delaware's new Republican governor can't read or write, but he expects to be able to make his mark all the same.

Texas' 300-pound Hog is going to start a newspaper and sit down hard upon his enemies. Oh, Lord!—Louisville Times. Will he edit it with a Hog pen?

Joe Baren and Joe Fite, of Georgetown, will to Williamsburg and take charge of the Herald. The last named gentleman will—judging by his name—look after the collections.

The Tennessee House has concurred in the Senate resolution and the gubernatorial contest will not be settled until charges of fraud are investigated. Gov. Turney will hold over pending the investigation.

Col. R. W. Nelson, of Covington, is the latest candidate announced for Lieutenant Governor. C. M. D. Brown, of this city, and Senator R. T. Tyler, of Hickman, are the other announced candidates, with some talk of Oscar Turner, of Louisville.

The Sturgis Enterprise has been changed into the Sturgis Ledger and is now issued as a five-column quarto, all home print. The new proprietor, Headley C. R., is evidently a newspaper man who understands the business, and improvements are noticeable in every department of the paper.

A fire in Butte City, Montana, Tuesday night caused the explosion of large stores of powder, and the loss of life was frightful. Up to Wednesday at noon 60 dead bodies had already been recovered from the ruins, and many more are thought to have been consumed in the burning buildings. The property loss is enormous.

A writer in the Hopkinsville Kentuckian advocates in a well-written article the movement for the abolition of toll gates and for their purchase by the county. This subject is pushing itself to the front all over the State, and the sooner Daviess county realizes the great good to be derived from such a change, the better it will be for her and all her people.—Owensboro Messenger.

Tuesday's Courier-Journal eclipsed all records for big paper in Kentucky. It was six times its usual size, containing forty-eight pages and three hundred and eighty-four columns. It was devoted chiefly to write-ups of the breeding, tobacco and whisky interests of the State. There were many beautiful illustrations and numerous portraits of men and beasts. One page of the paper was devoted to the reproduction of Congressman McCrory's latest speech.

Many United States senators have been nominated this week. In North Carolina the Republicans and Populists carried out their bargain and chose J. C. Fritchard, Rep., for the two-year term and Mark Butler, Pop., for the long term. Horace R. Chilton, Dem., in Texas; W. J. Sewell, Rep., in New Jersey and Wm. Sewell, Rep., in Idaho, were other selections. In Delaware, Higgins, Rep., was nominated by one vote, the Addicks men bolting the caucus. The split in the Republican ranks may cause the defeat of Higgins in the election yet to be held.

France is in the midst of a crisis that threatens the life of the Republic form of government. The cabinet was overthrown on Monday and this was followed by the resignation of President Casimir-Perier. The whole country is thrown into tumult and excitement, and to add to the complications the Duke of Orleans, the pretender to the throne of France, has started from London for Belgium to be near at hand in case there is a revolution. France has reached the most critical period of its history since the overthrow of the empire.

Miss Hannah Green, of Vincennes, Ind., was struck speechless while dancing at a ball. She is otherwise as well as usual.

The appointment of Hon. L. C. Linn, of Murray, as Judge Grace's successor, is mentioned in our news columns. Mr. Linn is a native of Calloway county, and is the son of the late Reuben Linn, who moved to that county from Trigg in 1823. He is 45-years of age and a lawyer of fine attainments, and his friends say, will be a credit to the bench of the State. He was born in humble circumstances but by close application and great energy has made himself worthy of the appointment just given him to this most honorable position. He was a confederate soldier in Holt's company, and received wounds at the battle of Shiloh that made him a cripple for life.

MATTERS OF RECORD.

ALLEGED JOCKEYERS.

Editor—Have you any watch-dogs here? Johnny Stubbins says we've got some alarm clock roosters.

Professor—Ah, mees! You climb the mountain. It was a great foot.

Miss—You must fast. Professor—Ah, zen you climb it more zen once!

Hallie—How delightfully entertaining Miss Closemouth is. Percy—Is she well informed? Hallie—Oh, yes, I told her everything I knew about everybody.

"Smith is looking very low spirited. Has there been any trouble in the family?" Duhna—Yes; a rich wife has just recovered from a serious illness.

Mr. Hight—Where is that "Book of Etiquette and Complete Letter Writer?" Mr. H—It is on the way to the grocer to tell him I can't pay him.

Uncle John—And why do you think that your brother Charles is a great writer? Alice—Why, because he is. He writes more every day than he can get in the paper.

"What did you get for your vote, Uncle Jim?" "Well, nah, day gimme a lame mule," he said. "You came out loser, then?" "No, nah, I reckon not. Day trowed out ten er my votes."

"But what can you do, young man? Haven't you some special talent or taste—some bent, as they say?" Applecaine, dubiously—N—no, not! Ah, I can think of—except that I am a little low-livered."

"Some of Browning's works" repeated the gentlemanly bookstore clerk. "Certainly, mas'am. Which volume?" "The one," said Mrs. Nurich, languidly, "wrap me up a quarter of a dozen."

AND HE DIED.

The Old Man Met His Fate in That Small Suit Coat.

She was a typewriter. Of course she isn't pretty as rare as a hen that isn't a chicken or a circle that isn't round. Nobody ever saw one—least, who lived to write about it.

He was the senior member of the firm, but susceptible, for all that. He was written. He wanted to ask her a few tendentious questions. He dared not commit them to paper, oh no! He dared not speak aloud for fear some of the weaker-minded clerks or junior partners would catch on and squeal.

For three days he thought, then he hit upon a plan. He would inveigle her into the backroom by telephone.

He did so. "Little dear," he pleaded there, "will you go to the opera to-night with me and for a little supper afterwards? Please, please me, I will promise you a glorious time."

The sweet girl blushed. Oh, it was indeed a temptation. She tried to speak. What her answer was no one shall ever know for just at that instant there was a buzz at the telephone. With pallid face and trembling hands the senior drew the phone to his ear and heard a familiar voice from afar: "Yes, dear, thank you. Come home early. I will be ready on time."

The doctors called it heart failure. But the wife and the little blond typewriter knew more than these wise men.

Edwin and Edwin.

Constancy and devotion were in the blood of Edwin Booth, as his published letters, edited by his daughter, abundantly show. I recalled, as I glanced over the other day, the touching love story of his daughter Edwin.

The man to whom she was engaged to be married became demented through his accidental inhalation of illuminating gas, and for years father and daughter lived in the perpetual gloom of his misfortune.

Interrupted Trial of the Ericsson.

The torpedo boat Ericsson was recently taken to Stratford, Conn., for a preliminary speed trial on the Long Island course. All went well with the boat until, when nearing the finish the piston rod belonging to the low pressure engine broke, and this misg was followed by the breaking of the flanges. The starboard engine was completely crippled and the Ericsson was brought to New London by the port engine.

Just previous to the accident, her propellers had been running at 420 revolutions per minute, which is equivalent to 24 knots per hour. At the moment the rod gave way it was making 410 turns per minute. The accident will delay the final trial considerably, since the broken parts must be made in Dubuque, where the Ericsson was built.

RING IS DONE FOR.

Probability That There Will Be No More Glove Fights.

All of the time now arguments in favor of boxing as a sport will hardly save the game from a trace like state now that a second fatality has occurred in the ring within a month. The death of Con. Rindan in Syracuse recently brought a storm of denunciation upon the heads of the knuckle knights, but that, seemingly, was argued away when it was shown that the big California heavy-weight was in no condition physically to box, even in the lightest kind of a set-to. But what can be said in extenuation of the death of poor little Andy Bowen? He was trained to the hour seemingly, and was in rare good condition. Still he did not live much longer than Rindan after getting the final blow. Those who know the methods of the ring will realize at once that the officials of the Auditorium club were criminally negligent in failing to have the door of the ring padded sufficiently to prevent such an accident, but those in a position to argue the point will be drowned to complete silence by the hue and cry which will now be raised. The New Orleans fatality means that boxing will be dead in this country for some months to come—probably. But as the ring has lived down several similar accidents, it is reasonable to expect that it will do so again. It is better prepared in every way to do it. Boxing as conducted within the last five years was never on a higher plane, or more devoid of all semblance to that brutality which distinguished knuckle fights on the turf under London prize rings. The size of the gloves to begin with, precludes the possibility of direct injury being inflicted by a blow, no matter how powerful, provided the recipient be capable, in a physical sense, of receiving a blow from a jarring punch. Club contests, conducted under careful auspices, have always been popular. That does not mean that the rougher element of a community is in attendance, for exactly the reverse is true. Men of standing in the business and professional world are among those who have patronized bouts between boxers of the higher rank and the riff-raff is kept on the outside by a scale of prices much beyond their reach. It is certain, too, that no other sport in the calendar is capable of creating such profound interest as a boxing match between two men of national or international reputation. Take, for instance, the contest between Champion Corbett and Charley Mitchell, the English boxer, at Jacksonville, Fla., last winter. Hundreds went from different northern cities to see the battle decided, although each and every one knew that it could not last more than half an hour at the longest. To enjoy that brief space men spent hundreds of dollars in traveling and living expenses and paid from $30 to $50 admission to the arena and then witnessed less than five minutes of actual work by the contestants. At the very start and up to the last moment it was not certain that the contest would be held. That was the chance the tourists took, but they took it gladly and only a few complaints were made because of the brief duration of the struggle. The greatest horse race of the century would not have attracted one third the interest, equal amounts being driven between the other three colleges. The receipts from other games make the year's profits reach nearly $30,000. The athletic association of the university is now for the first time in its history free from all indebtedness and has in its treasury nearly $9,000. On Oct. 1, 1893, the deficit amounted to $4,553.97, in addition to an indebtedness to the board of directors, individually, of some $1,500, making a total of about $10,000. The membership of the athletic association is now 450, of which 215 are graduates, 492 undergraduates, and 53 life members.—New York Clipper.

THE RING.

The death in London, England, of George Smith, the pugilist, from injuries received in his contest with "Dummy" Winters, Dec. 7, has resulted in the arrest of three sporting newspaper reporters, together with the timekeeper and the promoter of the fight. They will be charged with being accessories to the crime of manslaughter.

Jack Edwards and Mike Conway, respectively of Brooklyn and Jersey City, met near Newton, L. I., on the morning of Dec. 11, and fought with skin tight gloves for a purse, which Edwards won by knocking his adversary out in the ninth Queensberry round.

Charley Wood and Jim Judge were opponents in a prize fight that took place at Iadonville, N. J., on Dec. 11, the latter winning. It is reported that the Camden county grand jury will make the affair a subject for investigation.

"Kid" Hogan and "Bad" Lolly engaged in a glove contest at Cincinnati, Ohio, recently, but the police stopped it at midnight, when the kids were in the ninth round of a capital bout, of which Hogan had the best at the time.

Queer Times—papers.

To ascertain the time at night the Apache Indians employ a gourd upon which the stars of the heavens are marked. As the constellations rise in the sky, the Indian refers to his gourd and finds out the hour. By turning the gourd around he can tell the order in which the constellations may be expected to appear. The bill people of Assam reckon time and distance by the number of quids of betelnut chewed. It will be remembered how, according to Washington Irving, Governor Wouter Van Twiller disdained the Dutch colonial assembly invariably at the last puff of his third pipe of tobacco. A Montagnais Indian of Canada will set up a long stick in the snow, when traveling ahead of friends who are to follow. He marks with his foot the line of shadow cast, and by the change in the angle of the shadow the oncoming party can tell on arriving at the spot how far ahead the leader is.

Casimir's Successor.

M. Casimir Perier, president of the French republic, during his recent tour in the provinces, drove about in an especially constructed carriage, the seat of which was so high that an ordinary person could scarcely reach it from the street. Any repetition of the Casimir incident would have been impossible. The president was always accompanied in his drives by a large force ofgendarmes, and at the various railroad stations the public was carefully excluded from the platform.

GOITRE IN THE NECK

The Electropoise has cured what was supposed to be goitre on the neck of Mrs. Low Thompson of Montgomery, Ky. The enlargement began to diminish soon after treatment of the Electropoise was applied; at this time it does not show at all. Large quantities of mucus was thrown off, and sometimes corruption as thick long and as large as my little finger. Others of my friends have the Electropoise and the one in my family has proved its curative powers on more than one occasion.

W. H. RECTOR,

Cadiz, Ky. Nov. 1, 1894.
Dear Sirs:—I write to inform you that I am more than satisfied with the investment I made with the Electropoise. I am now a well woman where I was a perfect wreck from the effects of asthma. I commenced treatment last July.

Mrs. W. H. RECTOR,

Cadiz, Ky., May 14, 1894.
Mrs. Rector, under date of August 3d, says: "My health continues good; I have no return of asthma and am in better health than I have ever been in my life; have gained in weight over 15 pounds. A neighbor of mine is using it for goitre, and it has very much reduced the largeness of her neck; think she will be entirely cured."

Electropoise put out on trial for four months for $10. Send for valuable book free.

Weather Forecasts.

Rain and snow with some sleet, is predicted for the next three days. The change to cold, following this period, will be very sudden, and an intensely frigid wave is down on the books, and preparations had better be made for it. The month throughout will be wintry, and some of the coldest weather for many years will likely be experienced before the month has passed.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—All persons having claims against A. C. Overshiner are hereby notified, in compliance to the statute in such cases, that they are required to present their claims to us at the First National Bank, Hopkinsville, Ky., property verified and proven, on or before March the 1st 1895.

Assignee of A. C. Overshiner.

Mr. Jas. T. Wallace, who has been so critically ill for several weeks that his condition was considered hopeless, has now begun to show a decided improvement. His physician, Dr. R. W. Galloway, says his disease has been controlled and that he will now steadily improve and soon be himself again. This will be gratifying news to Mr. Wallace's host of friends.

Ticket 53 was the lucky number which secured the handsome mirror and music box combined, given away free by Mrs. Lewis, manager of the Leader. Several weeks ago Miss Lewis decided to make some one of her many customers a present of this handsome and valuable music box, and to that has been given a number of tickets with a purchase of 50 cents. A few days ago the lucky number was determined by an anonymous person and Mrs. Lewis, of Bethel Female College, was the fortunate possessor. The handsome present has now been delivered to Mrs. Lewis and she is to be congratulated on her good fortune. By the way the Leader is fast gaining popularity, and is taking rank as the acknowledged headquarters for the military and literary goods. With a stock that is second to none in this section, with the cordial and kind assistance accorded to every visitor, and the perfect satisfaction to every customer, it is not strange that the Leader is so popular. Miss Lewis is a lady of refinement and education and her selection may always be relied upon. They have secured Miss L. A. Allen, who has been and favorably known by the public of Hopkinsville and vicinity to require any comparison. The ladies are invited to call at the "Leader" where they will Cleaning and repairing a specialty; done by Fowright, the tailor and outer. Seventh at, between Main and New Era office.

The firm of Thompson & Meador, one of the most solid and reliable firms in the city, wish to call the attention of the people of Hopkinsville and surrounding country to the fact that they are now prepared to furnish the trade with lower prices than ever before in the history of their business career. They do not claim to have the cheapest goods in the market, but the best goods at the lowest prices. Their plan is to buy only the best goods and sell nothing that they can not conscientiously recommend to their best friends. Honesty and fair dealing is the foundation stone on which they have erected their already successful and growing business. You will please notice they have a small space in the local columns on this page, which space they propose to devote almost exclusively to special sales, and the reader of the KENTUCKIAN will be given some splendid bargains during the year 1895, if they will only watch this space and take advantage of the opportunities offered them. Their first special sale will begin Monday, Jan. 21st. See advertisement.

ABOUT THE WHEAT.

Our market is steadily improving and sales as well as prices this week were better than those of last week. The crops offered Wednesday were mostly old lugs, and considering the quality, commanded good round figures. Very little of the crop was offered. Receipts are slowly improving, but are still very light. The loose market has fairly opened up, as yet, passed out of the hands of the producer. A few hds. of the '04 crop were among the offerings of the week and one of this character brought $7. It was last and was sold by Gaither & West.

HOPKINSVILLE MARKET.

Ragsdale, Cooper & Co. sold 70 hds. as follows:

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

Furnished by Glover & Barrett—Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 42,215 hds. with receipts for the same period 25,115 hds. Sales on our market since January 1st, amount to 6,958 hds. Sales of the crop of 1894 on our market to this date amount to 16,151 hds.

Our market for new dark tobacco, except for leaf of extra length, is much described as sluggish and low and very discouraging to sellers. Prices current here certainly offer no inducement to country dealers in the class production sections.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for dark tobacco 1893 crop.

Trans..... $1.00 to 2.00

Common to med. lugs..... 2.00 to 2.50

Dark rich lugs, extra quality, $2.50 to 3.50

Common leaf..... 2.50 to 4.00

Medium to good leaf..... 4.00 to 5.00

Leaf extra length..... 5.50 to 7.50

Wholesale prices.
